

JACKSONVILLE, FLORIDA

Annual National Men's Masters Invitational Basketball Championship

JANUARY 20, 21, 22, 2012

With 50+ Athlete's widely becoming the most affluent demographic in the U.S., its no wonder why Basketball has progressed to be the fastest growing competition in the country for those 50 – 70 years of age. Someone turns 50 years of age every seven seconds for the next six years.

Our national competition in January, 2012 will bring together former college and professional athletes 35 - 80 years of age, who eternally enjoy maintaining their physical fitness by continuing to complete in the sports activity that interested them most in earlier years and remains so.

Masters Basketball U.S.A. was initiated in Jacksonville, Florida, May 1985, and has developed into not only multiple national events, but has been included in the World Masters Games every four (4) years and World Senior Games annually, in many foreign nations.

Our event has been developed under the leadership of Sam Jones, Hall of Fame Member and one of the most famous Boston Celtic Basketball NBA Champions. Jacksonville is proud to again host the championship in which Mr. Jones has served as the Honorary National Chairman for the past twenty-five (25) years and recently moved near Jacksonville at World Golf Village.

We invite you to participate in our special event by joining the team as a National Sponsor.

Sincerely,

Dr. WILLIAM P. BOSWORTH
